

SHOWS WHY water was shut off at Mokena Thursday afternoon from 12 to 7 o'clock. Cross connections had to be made and valves installed at five points--Mokena and Front, Mokena and Second, First and Wolf Rd., First and Mokena, and First and Division St. This shows a crew putting in a cross connection and a couple of valves.

REBUILDING STREET at Mokena. When this section of Front St., between the west village limits and Wolf Rd., is finished it will match up with the portion that extends east to Division St. Mokena has been rebuilding Front St., a little at a time (because of the cost) and property owners east of Division hope that eventually the improvement will be extended to Schoolhouse Rd. This newest section needs a little smoothing out before it is ready for use. A thick base of stone, curbs and gutters, and a blacktop surface will add to its usefulness. Will County is sharing the expense of building this section of the street.

Parade And Fireworks To Mark Fourth At Mokena

The Fourth of July weekend is to be a big one at Mokena, providing, of course, that the weatherman gives full cooperation by holding back any rains until after the giant fireworks display Monday night.

The annual parade is to be staged Sunday afternoon. On Saturday afternoon there will be an auction from 3:30 to 5 o'clock at which Norman Stauffenberg will sell the various items gathered up by and for the Burros Midget football team. The proceeds will be used to meet some of the cost to maintain a football team.

A teen dance is to begin at 5 o'clock and later there will be a lot of action at Community Park. Sixteen booths operated by local organizations will be set up at the park. Some will sell food and refreshments and some will have games. These concessions will operate every night of the three-day weekend.

This annual Fourth of July celebration is sponsored by the Mokena Chamber of Commerce and the Mokena Lions Club.

Any organizations or individuals who wish to take part in the parade can still make arrangements by telephoning Norval Robinson the chairman, at 479-5838.

The parade is to form on the Carpenter Street School grounds at 1 o'clock so it can be lined up in time to move off at 2 o'clock. There will be band music and decorated cars and floats. Several marching units are scheduled to appear, it was said.

The parade will move from the school grounds to Front street, thence west of Wolf Rd., south on Wolf to LaPorte Rd., and then east to the park.

Volunteer firemen from Mokena and other neighboring communities are to have a water fight at the park following the break-up of the parade.

The booths will be open at the park Monday afternoon. Beginning at 1 o'clock on the Fourth there will be races for youngsters between the ages of 4 and 15.

At 2 o'clock there will be a baseball game between teams from the Mokena and Arbury Hills Leagues.

The fireworks display will take place at night, of course, as soon as it is sufficiently dark. Following the fireworks a color television set is to be given away.

Everyone in the area is invited.

Mokena Will Ballot On Library Dist. Aug. 6

People of the Mokena area will vote on the formation of a library district on Aug. 6.

Circuit Judge Michael Orenic set the date for the referendum after a hearing on a petition asking that such a district be organized.

Two polling places have been established, one in the garage of Joseph Bernardin, florist, on Wolf Rd., north, and the other at the Carpenter St. school.

The court also approved the proposed list of library trustees who will serve the district if it is approved, Walter Welsch, State's Attorney George E. Sangmeister, Joseph Bernardin, Clarence Miller, Mrs. Rudolph Engelhardt and Mrs. Louis Richards.

Named as election judge are: Marcia Miller, Beatrice Olson and Esther Neef, who will serve at the polling place at Bernardin's; Vivian Shoop, Lois Shewski and Amy Engelhardt, who will serve at Carpenter Street School.

The court has ordered the printing of the ballots. They are to be picked up at the court on Aug. 5. Persons who will not be in the district on election day may vote prior to that date at the circuit court at 57 W. Jefferson St., Joliet, in person or by mail.

The proposed district will include the area within the Mokena Grade School District, with the exception of Rolling Heights, which is within the boundaries of New Lenox Township. New Lenox has a township library.

In his private capacity as an attorney, Mr. Sangmeister, has taken care of the legal end of the business, the preparation of the necessary petitions and attendance at the court hearing, without charge.

The election judges will serve without compensation and the election booths will be loaned by the grade school district. The school will not charge for its use as a polling place nor will Mr. Bernardin charge for the use of his property. The only expense will be the printing of the ballots and the purchase of the poll books, tally sheets and supplies for the casting of absentee votes.

The Mokena Book Club, which, with the help of the Mokena Lions Club, has been supporting the Mokena library for many years, will contribute to the cost of the election and hopes to get some help from the public. It is estimated the cost of election supplies will run to approximately $150.

The Book Club is urging establishment of a district library, that will be supported in part at least by taxes, because under the new state library law Mokena will be cut off from use of state books or any other aid. It has only been thru the use of books from the state library that Mokena has been able to maintain its library. By becoming tax supported, it was said, the proposed Mokena District Library could share in the many services that library centers will extend. The maximum tax rate would be six cents per $100 equalized assessed valuation or $6 on a property with an equalized assessed valuation of $6 on a property with an equalized assessed valuation of $10,000.

1966-67 Enrollment For L-W Reaches 1,210 Mark

Approximately 1,210 students have registered for L-W classes next year, providing for an increase of 103 over the 1,107 who finished the second semester. Chiefly accounting for this increase is the difference between the incoming freshmen, 310, and the 220 graduating seniors.

Usually during the summer months a few more new students enroll than the number moving away. The average daily enrollment last year was 1,121 students while the average daily attendance came to 1,096. This attendance record of 97.7% is considered outstanding since all courses are included.

The new addition to the building is coming just in time to provide adequate space for this 10% increase in students, school officials reported. The new vocational agriculture and industrial arts shops should be ready to use in September while the regular classrooms will not be available until the second semester. All vocational and shop enrollments show major increases for next year. Considerable interest has been indicated in the new auto mechanics program with an enrollment of 80 boys.

All incoming freshmen and all upper classmen were registered and assigned before the end of the last school year. Individual schedules were then made out along with the teacher and room assignments. Using this procedure the entire building can be used efficiently and to its maximum capacity. Much time and confusion is eliminated with the fall opening of school along with the arrival of the students. Immediately students will receive their printed assignments and can immediately report to their respective teachers and classes. All educational books and materials will be ready for assignment to the students during this first day.

Students transferring to L-W this coming fall should register as early as possible in order to secure their first choice of courses. As shops and classrooms become filled, further enrollments in those areas have to be refused. A few courses already are closed with more becoming near the saturation point.

Chapman At National High School Meeting

Supt. A. Hunter Chapman, of Lincoln-Way High School, is attending a meeting this week of the National Federation of High School Athletic Associations being held at French Lick, Ind. He is representing the Illinois High School Association Board of Directors along with the 150 member schools represented by him on the Board of Control. All states have similar governing boards with reciprocal rules and regulations. Common policies between states are necessary because of interstate athletic competition along with uniform rules for the major sports.

The National Federation represents the largest closely knit organized athletic body in the world. It insures some degree of teamwork on the part of approximately 20,000 high schools.

Presently there are about 700 Illinois high schools in the state association with 150 located in Chapman's Division #2. These schools include all the public and private schools in the suburban area outside the city of Chicago.

In the bottom row (l to r) is the portrait of Cindy Stuenkel, which won Third Place in the single portraiture category; Honorable mention was given the picture of Rod and Steven Salach, Palos Heights, and the other two were also accepted for exhibit at the convention, Nadine Elias, Mokena, and Mrs. Donald Clark and son Donald, Frankfort. Behnke was re-elected to the board of directors.

Fishes For Bullheads But Hooks Alligator

A 13-year-old Orland Park boy went out to McGinnis' Slough on Southwest Highway to get some bullheads and caught an alligator.

The young fisherman is David Show, an eighth grader in Orland Park Junior High School. He lives at 10098 147th St., and was accompanied on his fishing trip by his 5-year-old brother, Tom. The boys are sons of Ralph Show, an automobile dealer at Frankfort.

Their mother decided to go to the slough to see what luck the boys were having and arrived in time to hear David shout:

"It's an alligator!"

Mrs. Show was inclined to discount this because it is a well known fact that alligators are scarce in Northern Illinois waters -- outside of zoos or exhibits, as are hippopotami or coral deposits for that matter, but when she looked she saw that it indeed was an alligator, about 10 or 12 inches long.

David tried to field or net or whatever it is one does in capturing an alligator-the thing in a bucket but it kept slipping away. David then proceeded to put his fish hook to use. He succeeded in hooking the alligator under the jaw and hoisted it ashore. The hook was dislodged without any difficulty and the creature appeared to be enjoying his new quarters in the Show back yard. It was decided, however, to give the gator to the Forest Preserve so it could round out the collection of District flora, fish and fauna it has at the Little Red Schoolhouse and that is where it is.

Gail Chestnut Has Champion At Lamb Show

Gail Chesnut of Mokena, member of the New Lenox Hayshakers 4-H Club, exhibited the champion lamb at the Will County 4-H Market Lamb Show. The event was held Monday evening, June 20, at Francis 4-H Field, New Lenox.

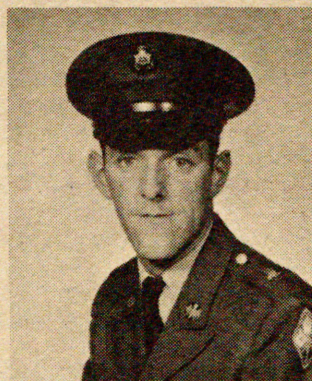

Aubrey Williams, lamb buyer for the Illinois Producers' Livestock Association, Chicago, judged the show. He awarded "A" ratings to three exhibitors for their pen - of - three lambs. These winners were Gail Chesnut and John Chesnut, Jr., both of Mokena and members of the New Lenox Hayshakers; and C.B. Shaw III of Monee, member of the Green Garden Go-Getters 4-H Club.

Terrence McHugh of Manhattan, member of Willing Wilton Workers, received a "C" rating for his pen - of - three lambs.

Gail Chesnut, John Chesnut and C.B. Shaw III each received two "A" ratings for their single market lamb entries. Terrence McHugh won "C" ratings on his two single market lambs.

KRUSEMARK WINS

Albert H. Krusemark was re-elected Republican committeeman of the 1st precinct of Frankfort township, which takes in the village of Frankfort. He was the only one with opposition. Krusemark polled 228 votes to 23 for his opponent, Kenneth Oetter.

PVT. LEON S. COOPER, 14407 Beacon Ave., Orland Park, is now enrolled for 19 weeks in intensive training as a photographic technician in the U.S. Army Signal School at Fort Monmouth, N.J. Admission to the Signal School is limited to men of outstanding promise, it was explained. The school gives training in the technologies of 215 major types of electronic equipment, from radio and television sets to "electronic brains;" also teaches meteorology and both motion-picture and still photography. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cooper, of Manhattan, Pvt. Cooper is a 1959 graduate of Carl Sandburg High School. His wife, Betty, is from Normal, Ill.

Sandburg To Be Host At Regional Science Program

The Science Department of Carl Sandburg High School has been selected by the Rand McNally Company to host a regional briefing session on a new experimental ninth-grade physical science program being developed by Rand. From thirty to forty science teachers in schools from Champaign, Ill., to Minneapolis, Minn., will be in attendance at the meeting on Aug. 26 and 27.

Twenty of these teachers will attend the meeting on an all-expense-paid basis at the invitation of Rand McNally. These teachers will also receive all books, tests, and other materials for their students during the 1966-67 school year in exchange for supplying the authors with detailed progress reports, evaluations and suggestions on the course. Another group of up to 20 additional teachers will be invited to attend at their own expense and will be permitted to purchase the new materials for the course at the publisher's cost.

In commenting on the selection of Sandburg as one of twelve regional centers across the nation, William B. Miller, Rand's science editor, said that the choice was based on the fact that a number of Sandburg science teachers have previously participated in experimental course programs such as BSCS biology, CHEM Study chemistry, and PSSC physics. Miller also noted that the Sandburg science department has a well known reputation for its modern approach to the teaching of science and its emphasis on a laboratory-oriented, inquiry approach in all of the science areas.

The course being developed is designed as a lead-in to the Biological Sciences Curriculum Study (BSCS) programs in high school biology and is being written by some of the same authors responsible for the BSCS courses. James Keith, chairman of the Sandburg science department pointed out that Sandburg has used the BSCS materials for the past five years.

"We have attempted to teach biology to our freshmen students for several years but have had some problems due to the fact that these new courses require a good background in chemistry, physics and laboratory methods," Keith said. "Unfortunately, many incoming freshmen just haven't had this kind of training and therefore have difficulty with the kind of biology that we are trying to teach.

"For some time the department has been looking for a course which would give the students the training necessary for greater success in the work in biology. This is the first one which we have seen which seems to fill the needs of our students."

Rand McNally is developing the textbook, teacher's guide, and tests completely without governmental or other outside assistance. This is one of the few attempts to be made in recent years by a private company to develop a nation-wide curriculum program without any form of financial support by a federal agency. Because of the thorough testing and evaluation program by teachers which is being planned, it is felt that the course will be more suitable to the needs of high schools science students.

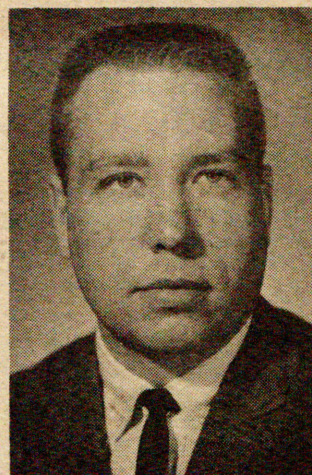

Present plans call for at least two Sandburg teachers to use the materials in their freshman classes during the 1966-67 school year. Pending the availability of additional books and materials on a no-cost basis, others may be added to the program before the opening of the school year in September.

Sandburg Teacher At Film Workshop

Edward F. Newren, director of the instructional materials center at Carl Sandburg High School, Orland Park, is one of 40 secondary school educators from 17 states selected to attend a film appreciation workshop which opened June 7 at Mount St. Scholastica college, Atchison, Kans.

The two-week program which is supported by a $9,500 grant issued to the Mount college by the United States Office of Education, is designed to acquaint the participants with more effective ways to teach appreciation of films as the newest art form.

Newren, who earned his master of education degree from Chicago Teachers College, estimates that one

State Is Studying Ways To Make Motoring Safer

A number of electronic traffic safety devices are under consideration by the state highway division's research and development department, Francis S. Lorenz, director of the Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings, has reported.

"One in which we are particularly interested," Lorenz observed, "is the use of audio signing in connection with visual signing."

"The car radio will probably be used to give advance warning of highway obstructions, interchanges and other important messages."

"The broadcasts will be received in a limited area only along the highway and guard rails may be used to transmit them. Police cars may also be equipped to make a limited area broadcast."

"An improved electronic system to warn wrong-way drivers is being studied. This warning device may include flashing lights, sirens or other attention compelling equipment and is primarily intended for use on exit and entrance ramps."

"The problem of slick bridge decks may be overcome with a device that will automatically warn motorists by sound or visual signals when the road bed is wet or icy."

"Limited use has already been made of electronic systems to control the flow of traffic and closed circuit television may prove practical in this field."

Safety equipment for the auto is also under intensive study, Lorenz continued.

"Since steel mesh is imbedded in the pavement, an electronic sensing receiver may be used that would sound an alarm if the car started to veer from the pavement. An automatic scanner may be practical to warn of approaching or stalled cars or other objects. This equipment could also apply the brakes automatically."

"Studies are underway regarding the proper location, design and color of tail and brake lights on motor vehicles. We must remember that any new system for traffic safety which will involve millions of people will have to evolve step by step. Because new ideas in transportation must be integrated into our existing system, it is necessary that changes be compatible with what is already here. And in order to justify the expenditure of billions of dollars, any radical changes must also offer radical improvements. Just a little bit better won't be enough."

Lorenz also discussed how the highways of the future will relieve congestion.

"Many people who have been misinformed about the highway program fear that in the midst of a phenomenal spread, we will allow highway pavement to swallow up priceless land resources. It is more likely, however, that highway technology of the future will be primarily concerned with developing new means for increasing peak capacity of existing highways."

"Actually our entire network of 3,500,000 miles occupies less than 1 per cent of the total land surface of this nation. It is also true that the majority of road building is not construction on new location, but the improvement --- including widening and reconstruction --- of roads originally carved from repeated wagon tracks of many years ago. When we talk about highways of the future we should remember that the kind of roads we think of as "conventional" are going to be in use for a long time to come. Most highways built with today's technology will be entirely satisfactory for the traffic anticipated for many years."

Summertime Is Busy Time For Staff At Lincoln-Way

Little thought is given by the public to the behind the scene summer planning and work schedule required for the opening of a new school year. The 11 week student vacation is only the beginning of the work schedule for the maintenance staff, administrators and for the secretaries.

New construction on the building addition started immediately after graduation with the new shop areas planned for completion with the opening of school in September. New shop equipment is required for these new shops including the tools for the auto mechanics courses and vocational agriculture classes.

The maintenance staff, under Frank Goetschel's supervision, is required to completely clean and wax the entire building with the additional care of the 70 acre campus including 3 football and 3 baseball fields. Included in the outside work are the sewerage plant, bleachers, water system, driveways, parking lots. All require maintenance and repairs. In addition, painting of the outside windows, tuck pointing, glass repairs and the construction of a new observation tower for the visiting football coaches. Interior work finds 265 electric motors being checked, hundreds of light fixtures, door hardware, clock system, drapes and window blinds, boiler room tanks, pumps and boilers. All kitchen and cafeteria equipment require careful attention in order to be ready for the daily preparation of 1300 meals.

Most of the school's department chairmen left requests for some additions or alterations to provide for more storage or to accommodate the new staff members.

Guidance Director Jonas Lashmet devotes considerable time in working out the individual student schedules along with the enrollment of new L-W students. His office also supervises the hundreds of transcripts for college students along with the daily requests from industry for school records. The armed forces constantly check on graduates for security or for promotions. School records are always confidential and released only at the request of the individual or from the governmental agencies. Mr. Lashmet is also responsible for preparing the Student and Parent Handbook.

Joe Kruzich is assigned much of the responsibility on the budgetary requests submitted from all department chairmen. In addition, he makes up the master schedule for the teachers, room assignments, and furniture requirements.

Kevin McGivern devotes his efforts in the curriculum area planning the organization of the various courses, securing the educational equipment including textbooks, along with making a careful inventory of the available supplies on hand. Mr. McGivern is also director of the new summer business education vocational training program for nine Senior girls. This new program is a federally supported project to give office experiences and financial help to students in vocational training. Eight boys under vocational agriculture instructor Robert Van Rheeden are receiving a similar training.

The L-W office secretarial staff is busy with the bookkeeping, annual financial reports, ordering supplies, recording student grades, college applications, guidance records, routine correspondence and providing general information for the public.

The main library requires careful attention in handling all new book and magazine orders along with accurate filing and cataloging. All library books along with the thousands of textbooks are carefully checked and repaired when necessary. Much of this work will be assigned to the girls receiving the job training.

The superintendent's main responsibility besides overseeing the entire program is devoted to the many annual reports required for state and federal reimbursement, completing the annual budget, teacher recruitment, securing bids on equipment and construction and working with the architects and contractors.

Somehow as the new school year approaches, the 1,200 plus students will find everything in order when they report on Sept. 1.

School For School Board Members Of S. Suburban Area

School board members and administrators from South Suburban Cook County will be attending the July 9 Illinois Association of School Boards "Orientation for Board Members" meeting at the Circle Campus, University of Illinois, Polk and Halsted Streets.

Marley

Haley Park Scene Of Annual Celebration

MRS. VIRGINIA SASS
Telephone: 485-6424

The 85th annual celebration of Independence Day, sponsored by the Marley Brotherhood, will be held July 4 in Haley Park, next to the Marley Church, beginning at 11 o'clock a.m. Picnic lunches, featuring charcoal grilled steaks, will be on sale at noon. Plans for the afternoon include a ball game, games and races. The refreshment stand will offer pop and ice-cream.

"Since 1881, folks have gathered in Marley to celebrate the Fourth of July. The first picnic was held in an orchard then owned by Nathan Marshall. The celebrants brought their picnic lunches and enjoyed games and races. Since the young people had no fireworks, they made as much noise as they could by 'shooting the anvil'."

In 1883, the picnic was held in Storm's Grove in Marley. It was held there for several years with more and more families coming each year. Programs were added to the day's attractions. Early records record concerts by the Frankfort Band and evening dances to the strains of Abner Gillett's violin and his daughter Jennie's melodious accompaniment.

For a few years the celebration was held in the woods owned by Chester Marshall and the feature of the day was horse-racing. The picnics were a great deal of fun but also a lot of work. At the early picnics, ice cream was not purchased but was patiently made in freezers the night before.

Around the year 1910, the picnics were again held in Storm's Grove and continued there for nearly forty years. People came for miles to see the grand parade usually held in the morning. Many Marley people have participated in these parades and recall all the fun and pleasure involved. Patriotic programs have featured such speakers as Billy Mason, United States Senator; Congressman Ira Copley and Dr. John Holland of Radio Station WLS. They paid tribute to freedom, and how it was won and what was needed to maintain and defend it.

When Storm's Grove was sold for real estate development around 1950, the picnic was held for a few years at Arthur Lauffer's Grove on 167th Street. Picnics have been held in Haley Park since 1955. The park was dedicated as a Memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haley and Robert Regan at a service in the Marley Community Church on July 4, 1954. A recent addition to the park was made by a gift from Louis F. Sass.

To many folks -- "the Fourth isn't the Fourth, unless you come to Marley." It is a wonderful day for young and old. So much pleasure is gained in reminiscing with old friends and in meeting new friends under the shade of the beautiful oak trees. James Frazer will be found in the refreshment stand as he has been for many years and Dan Sass's lunch stand will again offer a pleasing menu.

The Fourth at Marley is indeed a special and unique observance. A happy combination of fun and reverence for the men and principles that make up our rich history continues as it has through the years. It is at old time celebrations like this that people take a moment to think what freedom and independence mean and determine that our heritage shall never be lost.

Adopts Building Code

The Will County Board of Supervisors this week adopted a building code for the county. Until now it has been operating without one.

The board has adopted the National Building Code, the State Plumbing Code, and the National Electrical Code.

A system of inspections is to be worked out which, it was pointed out, should be of great value to prospective occupants of the buildings under construction.

Most of the municipalities in the county have building codes so now most of the construction will be subject to regulation. Many communities adopt national or state codes but enforce only those sections that are applicable to their needs, it was said.

Civic Association Dance Big Success

Telephone: 479-5740

The Civic Association Beautification Dance held at the Mokena V.F.W. Hall was a rousing success. The size of the group was perfect, and they were all in a party mood. Thanks, Arbury Hills for your support!

To round out the evening the two special awards, the portable television was captured by Jim Fuller of Arbury Hills and the polaroid swinger camera by Jordan Marzano, also from Arbury Hills.

Ladies and gentlemen, check through your attic and basement and all inbetween. The board of directors of the Civic Association has made arrangements with Mr. Yunker, township road commissioner, to have a rubbish pick up in Arbury Hills.

There will be two trucks in Arbury Hills on Saturday morning, July 9 to pick up your disposable items. One truck will be for metal items and the second one for paper type goods. The board of directors will accompany the trucks to assist in the loading of the items.

It would be appreciated by all, if you have something of special bulk or weight, that the man of the house would lend a hand when the truck arrives.

This special service is in addition to the regular scavenger service, and independent of it. There will be no charge for this special pick up.

The girls of the Cadette Girl Scouts, eleven of them, went on a five day trip to the Apple River State Park. They were accompanied by Mrs. Barbara Markowski, Mrs. Ruth Burt, and Pat Anderson. Mr. Maschmeyer also pitched in to provide the needed extra transportation.

While the girls were there they visited the sights in Galena and Grants Home. They also went to the highest spot in Illinois called Charles Mound. Some time was also spent at the Mississippi Palisades Park.

An investiture ceremony was performed to invest Peggie Vaughn on the last night of the trip. The girls all bid a fond farewell the next afternoon to Apple River State Park.

The hot clear weather allowed for a full schedule in the baseball league.

The two farm teams played each other and Bud Cumbee's boys defeated Don Rutan's boys by the score of fifteen to nine. Bud's Angels also played the Lincoln Estates team and won by an unbelievable thirty-one to one.

The minor league team under Joe Mangan split even with a winning swamp of Lincoln Estates by the score of twenty-nine to one, and losing a much closer game to Manhattan seventeen to fourteen.

The Lincoln - Way Little League Arbury Hills Sox with "boss-man" Foster Tekotte played both Mokena teams with opposite results. The score of the game between our boys and the Mokena Dodgers was a shut out win for Arbury Hills fifteen to zero. The game between the Mokena Lions and Arbury Sox was a close but high scoring ten to seven win for Mokena.

Continuing up the list we have the Pony League team under Jim Hoyer, the Lincoln Hill Dodgers with three games to report. The Manhattan Lions roared past our Dodgers ending on the long end of a ten to four score. The Mokena Sox and the Lincoln Hill Dodgers played a closely contested match with Mokena squeezing past with a seven to six score. The one ego-saving game was another one of one run difference, when the Frankfort Giants lost to our boys by the score of five to four.

The last group in the list is the Colt League Team, the Arbury-Estates Cubs, under the manager-ship of Paul Schubert. They also managed to squeak out a win over the New Lenox Lions by the score of seven to six. In their second game of the week, the Arbury-Estates Cubs were coasted to a decisive victory against the Frankfort Cardinals, when our pitcher, Lee Williams, turned in a one hit shutout the score being ten to zero.

6,700 Hear Nixon At Triple R Ranch Rally

Some 6,700 persons stood in a sun temperature of well over the 100-degree mark Saturday afternoon to see and hear Richard L. Nixon, former Vice President. He spoke at Tom McKay's Triple R Ranch, just southeast of Frankfort, at a fund-raising rally for Joe I. Woods, Republican candidate for sheriff of Cook county.

"This is a most important law enforcing agency," Nixon said, "and Joe Wood's candidacy is an answer to the three questions all good citizens should ask about anyone who would serve in the field of law enforcement. He is honest, his long career with the FBI and law enforcement assure you that he would operate the office efficiently, and he is completely fair."

Nixon said this was the first time in his political career that he has ever campaigned directly for a sheriff but explained that Woods was a personal friend.

"I have known Joe Woods, his parents, his brothers and sisters for many years. They are a hardworking family. His sister, Rosemary, has been my secretary for 15 years. I believe in Joe Woods. You can vote for him with the confidence that he will be the best sheriff Cook county has ever had."

It was a blistering day for an out-of-door rally, with no shade: it would have been a blistering day for a rally indoors, even with air conditioning, with some 6,700 persons present. The attendance figure was given McKay by the attendants who manned the gates opening into the ranch. But the people listened attentively to Nixon and after he had finished he was besieged by autograph seekers and persons who wanted to shake his hand.

Nixon landed at O'Hare Field at 2:05, coming from California. McKay met him and brought him to the Frankfort Airport in the Triple R's plane, arriving there about 3:25. He was met at the airport by a delegation from Frankfort, including Mayer Glenn Warning, Trustee James McLe-more, Chief of Police Ted Massey, Supervisor George Tate, Committeeman Albert H. Krusemark and Mrs. Walter Mark, a Republican committeewoman.

Nixon was pleased with the size of the crowd at the rally and his reception.

"This is a typical good omen for the future of the Republican party," he said, "and I have found good omens thruout the country. Things are going to change in California, where there has been a Democrat governor for the past eight years. I find all over the country that the cause of the Republicans is going up while the cause of the Democrats is going down."

Nixon urged the election of Charles Percy for U. S. Senator, and all other Republican candidates in Illinois in the November election.

America was built and became great on the old fashioned virtues of hard work, saving money, love of country and respect and obedience to all law--not just those that one might believe in personally.

"From the stories one reads in the papers one really wonders what is happening to some of the young people," Nixon said, "with this unrest at some universities--draft card burning, belittling of Americans fighting in Viet Nam. What is becoming of patriotism?"

ALL GOOD GUYS--you know that. They all have white hats. Former Vice President Richard Nixon doesn't wear a hat, he said, but is making certain that Joseph I. Woods, Republican candidate for sheriff in Cook County, is properly decked out in a western lawman's type of head covering. Standing beside Nixon is Tom McKay, Chicago attorney, at whose Triple R Ranch at Frankfort Nixon spoke last Saturday in behalf of Woods campaign. At the right is Mayor Glenn Warning, of Frankfort, who came to the Frankfort Airport to give Nixon official welcome. That is McKay's plane at the rear. McKay met Nixon at O'Hare Field and brought him and Woods to Frankfort.

To many patriotism is old fashioned--it is out, not in, to love one's flag flag and country."

The war in Viet Nam is the first one in which we have been engaged, he pointed out, with the parties divided instead of unified. The Democrats are split into two branches, he declared, the Fullbright branch that wants peace at any price, and the Johnson branch that doesn't want peace on such terms but is ready to settle for a long, drawn out ground war.

"It is time we quit fighting the kind of a war that the Communists want to fight," Nixon said, "a long, ground war that would draw hundreds of thousands of young men into a bottomless pit, and bleed us white. Let's fight a war to win and win right now. Let's use all our power, air, naval, ground, diplomatic and economic. We should stop foreign aid to those countries who trade with the enemy; for those nations who are not recipients of foreign aid we should deny them the right of trade in the United States Reports have been received by the Will County Historical Society of unauthorized persons circulating thruout Will County soliciting money and historical items for the Society. The Society has established rigid rules regarding the acceptance of any donated items for display in the Will

if they persist in trading with the enemy."

Several candidates were present, including Percy who is running against Senator Paul Douglas in November. Percy arrived about the time Nixon concluded. He was introduced but spoke only briefly.

Now Long Way From East Of The Oder

A husband-and-wife team, both teachers of high school German, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Schmid, 10334 Hilltop Drive, Orland Park, are among those who received master's degrees at Roosevelt University 50th Convocation.

Mr. Schmid heads the language department and teaches German at Tinley Park High School. The road that led his wife, to her present post as teacher of German at Carl Sandburg High School, Orland Park, reaches back to East Germany.

While it was in 1945 that she and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baehr, who now live in Crystal Lake, Illinois, escaped from East Germany, it was 1956 before they were able to come to the United States under the auspices of the Lutheran Refugee Service.

Erna attended high school for two years in Crystal Lake before enrolling at Northern Illinois University, where she met her future husband. Married in 1960, they have one son, Peter, who "graduates" from kindergarten in Tinley Park this spring.

Mr. Schmid, whose parents came from Bavaria in the 1920s, was born in Chicago. The family later moved to Villa Park and he attended York Community High School in Elmhurst.

Things might have turned out differently. When his parents returned to Germany for a visit in the late 30's, they were on board the last boat of Americans that was able to leave Germany.

While the Schmid's long-range plans are to continue teaching, they can look forward to the prospect of six weeks of 16 local-area high school students traveling under the sponsorship of the American Institute of Foreign Studies, Greenwich, Connecticut.

Accepting Nominations For ASC Committeemen

Slates of nominees for membership on ASC community committees soon will be established at the ASCS county office. The present ASC committee is making a special effort to encourage the greatest possible participation of eligible voters in the election. Any local resident who is eligible to take part in an ASCS farm program may vote and may hold office as a committeeman regardless of race, color, creed, or national origin.

Charles E. Deutschman, chairman Will County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, says that farmers who are eligible to vote in the committee elections also have the right to nominate as candidates for committee membership any farmer who is eligible and willing to serve. Such petitions, each one nominating one farmer and signed by six or more eligible voters, may be filed at the county office any time before July 7. Eligible voters may sign as many petitions as they wish.

Additional nominations may be made by the incumbent ASC community and county committees.

"We want the best men available to serve on our ASC committees," Chairman Deutschman declared, "because the committee system is the backbone of farm programs--those dealing with conservation of soil and water, as well as the price support activities for various commodities. In the last few years, the farmer-elected committee system--unique in the history of agriculture--has been studied intensively by a committee of farm and public administration experts especially appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture for that purpose. The System not only has been retained, but has been greatly strengthened."

In Will County, Deutschman points out, approximately 1,600 farmers or about half, took part last year in one or more programs administered by the ASC committee. Funds disbursed under the committees' supervision last year amounted to $1,640,683. Of this amount, $273,965 was for price-support loans aimed at increasing market returns above what farmers would receive on an unsupported market. Included in the price-support program in this county are such major commodity programs as corn, soybeans, among others.

"So you can see that ASC committeemen in Will County are in effect board members of a big business," the chairman continued, "This points up the urgency in getting out the greatest possible cross-section of farmers in community elections."

A "farmer eligible to vote in the committee elections," according to the chairman, is generally a farmer who is eligible to take part in one or more of the national farm programs which the ASC committee helps to administer. A person eligible to hold office as committeeman is a local resident who is eligible to vote in the election and who meets other qualifications. Further information on these and other qualifications may be obtained from the ASCS county office. In general, these rule out employees of the Department of Agriculture and holders of elective office. The election of ASC community committees thruout Will County will be held by mail and ballot containing envelopes must be post marked or returned in person to the Will County ASCS Office at 1256 West Jefferson Street in Joliet by July 22, 1966.

Each community election will choose three community committeemen and two alternates. The chairman, vice chairman, and third regular member of the elected ASC community committee will also serve as delegates--and the alternate committeemen will serve as alternate delegates--to the county convention to be held July 29, 1966. The ASC county committee will be chosen at the convention.

hints for Homeowners

Summer may seem a strange time to talk about house plants however, they like a change of location in summer just like people.

With a few exceptions such as African violets, you can move house plants outside for a change or a vacation. Outdoor conditions are much closer to the ideal for plant growth. Humidity is higher, light is better, and plants grow well under these conditions. Stored outside they'll need less day to day care and thus will tolerate a few days neglect over long weekends.

Place these house plants in a lightly shaded spot such as under a bush, on a porch, or anywhere there is bright light but absolutely no direct sunlight. Direct sunlight under outdoor conditions will burn the leaves. Valuable foliage plants such as cut-leaf philodendron will turn a bronzy green and then develop dead spots in the leaves. Finally the leaf will become completely tattered.

Land Use Selection Contest Is July 7

The Will County 4-H Land Use Selection Contest will be held Thursday, July 7, on the Glenn and Ramon Schifler farm near Wilton Center. The contest is scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m. and will be over by 12 noon. The rain date is Friday, July 8.

Dr. Ronert D. Walker, Extension Specialist, Soil Conservation, University of Illinois, will conduct a short training session on Soils, Land Use, and Conservation Program before the 4-Hers judge the five contest sites. Fox Valley Production

Credit Association of Joliet will furnish trophies for the individual 4-H club member who has the highest score and for the winning team. Blue ribbons will also be awarded to the high scoring individual from all the 4-H clubs that participate in the contest.

The Agricultural Extension Service and the contest committee selected the location for the contest and Dr. Walker will provide the master score cards for each of the five sites that will be judged.

Pots can be plunged directly into the ground right up to their brim. Best give the pot a quarter turn about once a month to twist off any roots that have penetrated through the drainage hole. If this is not done periodically through the summer, the plants will get an extensive setback when they are brought into the house next fall.

Although the plants will not need as much care outside you will want to check them for water and fertilizer needs periodically. Certain varieties will grow so profusely that they will be able to use just as much or more fertilizer than during the winter months. Try watering once a month with a solution made of one tablespoonful on a soluble fertilizer per gallon of water.

No Grades Given In This Sandburg Class

Homework that did not have to be turned in and ungraded tests were part of Carl Sandburg High School's experimental algebra class this year. Miss Martha Schuhmann used the gradeless system in a class of honors sophomores, who received E's for experimental on their report cards.

AWARD WINNER -- Billy B. Denney, 135 Maray ave., New Lenox, received a $15 suggestion award from Brig. Gen. Bernard R. Luczak, APSA commander. Mr. Denney, a services division employee, received the award for a proposal regarding 24-hour wall clocks.

Principal G.W. Davidson was the originator of the experimental class idea. "One problem of modern education," he said, "is that the premium isn't on learning, it's on getting a grade." He thought that "if the student could relax, he could learn more."

During the third quarter, homework problems were assigned, but not collected. Students did as many problems as they needed to do to understand the basic concept. Open book take-home tests and conventional one-hour tests were given, and the mistakes were pointed out afterwards.

The same pattern was followed in the fourth quarter, after the students had voted to continue the program, but the students were given even more freedom. For example, Miss Schuhmann said, while problems had been assigned before, in the fourth quarter the students were simply told to work on a certain area in the book and left on their own.

The other advanced algebra class was the control group for the experiment, but the two classes could not be compared because grades could not be used for the comparison. "The students are the only ones who know if they understand better," said Miss Schuhmann.

In a student evaluation at the end of the third quarter, one student described the class as "a challenge and a change of pace." Another wrote, "This quarter has really been a test for me. I feel as though I have passed this test."

Many had doubts because the ungraded course brought their grade averages down, and students were afraid of jeopardizing their chances for college admission. Most wrote, however, that the advantages outweighed the disadvantages.

Some wrote that they did better on tests because of the lack of pressure. "Tests are now only an indication of my progress," one said. "They don't determine whether I pass or fail."

On a questionnaire, seven students said they had spent less time on ungraded math, six said about the same amount, and five said more. Almost all said their understanding of the material was either the same or better. Most liked the lack of pressure on tests and said they had worked pretty much to their abilities.

Davidson chose this class for the experiment because the students were "the right kind of kids," he said, and because Miss Schuhmann had a good relationship with the class. Davidson said he wanted the program to be "not a decree from a teacher, but a shared experience."

Miss Schuhmann said her class had been talking about the importance put on grades before the experiment was brought up. After Davidson talked to her, she presented the idea of an ungraded course to the class. The students discussed for a whole hour and then voted. Only one student objected, and he later changed his mind.

The experiment may or may not be tried in the future, Davidson said, depending on the caliber of teachers and students available.

The Law Serves You

A Public Service of the
ILLINOIS STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

YOUR DOMICILE IS LEGALLY IMPORTANT

Do you know the difference between a "residence" and a "domicile"? There is quite a difference. You can be a resident of Florida and still be domiciled in Illinois.

No, you don't have to have a split personality. Technically, you are a resident of Florida if that is where you are living. But, the law says that a person can only have one state of "domicile," and that is the state in which you have your permanent home and intend, ultimately, to return--Illinois.

Your state of domicile is important in determining taxes, voting rights, how your property should be distributed on death, and so forth. Many cases have been fought through the courts over questions of residence and domicile.

It has happened that estates have been subjected to full death taxes in several states because of confusion about the domicile of the deceased, with the result being almost complete expenditure of the estate to pay taxes.

When a person dies without leaving a will, it can become difficult to determine taxes and distribution of property unless there is evidence of domicile.

Using a home address on stationery, returning for Christmas and holidays, and frequent mention of one state as "home" may all be considered in ascertaining a person's domicile. In fact, all things that evidence an effort to retain connections in one's home state for the purpose of returning permanently, is generally the test of domicile.

If you travel extensively, or work in a state other than your home state, you have a problem of domicile that can be costly to you or your heirs if the evidence of your intention is not clear.

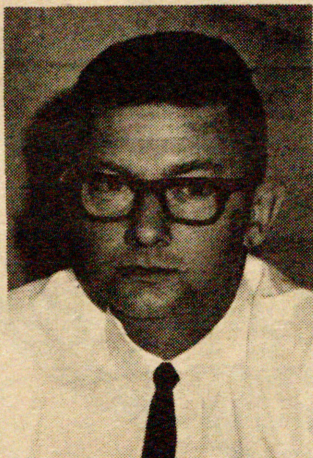

("The Law Serves You" is written to inform and not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without consulting his attorney. Even a slight difference in the facts may change the result under the law.)

CSHS Teacher Heads Junior Science Body

James Keith, chairman of the science department at Carl Sandburg High School in Orland Park, was elected to a two year term as president of the Illinois Junior Academy of Science at the organization's annual meeting in Urbana. Keith, who has been active in the Junior Academy for several years, has previously served as state judging chairman and president-elect during the past year. He succeeds Dr. Willard Gersbacher of Southern Illinois University. Sister Mary Alvernia of Madonna High School, Chicago, was elected president-elect for 1966-68.

As president of IJAS, Keith will be responsible for the direction of all phases of the work of the Junior Academy, including the 1967 State Science Exposition. In accepting the post, he said: "With the rapid growth of the schools in Illinois and the ever-increasing emphasis on science and science education, the Junior Academy stands as one of the foremost organizations thru which students may demonstrate their ability and the results of their research work. It is my hope that we can give an even larger group of students this opportunity while at the same time helping them to improve the quality of their research and to increase their appreciation of the roles of science and scientists."

The Illinois Junior Academy of Science is an organization consisting of over 500 junior and senior high schools in all parts of the state and is the oldest group of its type in the nation, having been established in 1927. Thru its sponsorship of scientific activities at the local, district and state levels, the Junior Academy helps to create and foster the best interests of science and provides opportunities for its student members to present the results of their scientific research. In its program of paper presentations and seminars, discussion of research work at all levels is encouraged by bringing together students and those who are professionally engaged in the various scientific areas.

At this year's State Science Exposition held in the Assembly Hall at the University of Illinois campus, over 900 research projects completed by students were exhibited. Of these, 123 were given Outstanding Awards, the highest award given in the Junior Academy. In addition, approximately 100 students presented papers on their research work before some 500 students and teachers attending the papers session.

The annual banquet of the Junior Academy was attended by over 1100 students and teachers, the largest group ever served in the banquet room of the Illinois Union. The students and their sponsors heard the principal address presented by Dr. Harvey Fisher of the Southern Illinois University Department of Zoology who has spent 8 years studying the Laysan Albatross of Midway Islands. Other guests at the banquet included Dr. Lyell Thomas, founder of the Junior Academy, and many of the past and present adult and student officers.

Haller, County Recorder Dies; Funeral Is Today

Funeral services are to be held this morning (Thursday) for Eugene K. Haller, 44, Will County Recorder of Deeds, who died suddenly on Monday, at Silver Cross hospital, of a heart ailment.

He resided at 1015 E. Eighth St., Lockport, and the services today will be from the McPhee Funeral Home there at 9:30 o'clock to St. Dennis Church, 1214 Hamilton St., at 10:00. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet cemetery, Joliet.

He suffered a heart attack several weeks ago and was hospitalized then. He had been reported improving but another attack Monday was fatal.

He was elected county recorder on the Democrat ticket in 1964. Prior to that he had served as police magistrate at Lockport and in 1961 was elected justice of the peace for Lockport, Homer, DuPage, Plainfield and Wheatland Townships.

Mr. Haller had been active in Democrat politics for many years and was a member of executive Board of the Lockport Township Democratic organization.

In World War II he served almost four years in the U.S. Naval Air force. He attended Joliet Junior College and Drake University. He also attended the Weaver and the YMCA Schools of Real Estate. In 1952 he established the firm of Eugene K. Haller and Associates, dealing in insurance and real estate. He also prepared incometax returns. The office was in Lockport until recently when it was moved to Washington and Ottawa Sts., Joliet.

Before entering the real estate business Mr. Haller was a carpenter. He also worked as an inspector at the Caterpillar plant and was a machinist apprentice for the Rock Island Lines.

He was a member of the Troy Sportsmen's club, a past president of the Lockport Township Insurance Agents Association, and at one time was quite active in the Joliet Exchange club. He also was a past president of the St. Dennis Athletic Association; Perez Council K. of C., Lockport; St. Dennis Holy Name Society; the Lockport Toastmasters Club, of which he was a charter member; and was a member of the Lockport lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, the Lockport Lions Club, the Young Americans A.C., Joliet and the Joliet Elks Lodge.

Surviving are his wife, the former Margaret Herbenak; two daughters, Marsha, 16 and Karen, 3; two sons, Jeffrey, 14, and Brian, 12; his father, Walter A. Haller, of Joliet; a sister, Catherine, Mrs. Donald Freckleton, Joliet, and a brother, Walter J.

of Mobile, Ala. His mother, Mrs. Catherine Haller, preceded him in death.

What the procedure will be in selecting a successor to Mr. Haller was not established as of yesterday. Some say that the county board can appoint someone to complete the term: some claim that the appointee of the board can serve only until the next general election, which will be in November, and that a special primary would have to be held to select the candidates who would run at that time.

The county board is awaiting a ruling by the Attorney General of Illinois to guide its actions in this situation.

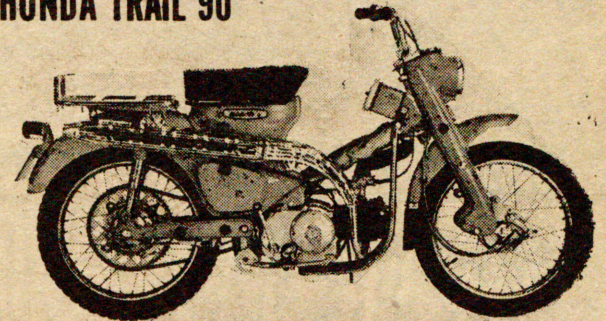

David Paben Completes Marine Combat Training

Marine Private David D. Paben, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Paben of 11022 Revere Road, Mokena, has completed individual combat training at Camp Pendleton.

The four-week course included over 200 hours of instruction under simulated combat conditions, covering squad tactics, guerilla warfare, day and night combat, patrolling, and the use of infantry weapons.

His next stop is four weeks of basic specialist training in his military occupational field. Marines to be assigned to infantry units will be taught infantry sub-specialties.
